LazySandwich

Introduction

LazySandwich is a web application that satisfies your desire for a homemade sandwich when you are miles away from home. LazySandwich also enables you to make homemade sandwiches from the available ingredients in your fridge for hungry customers around the corner. Speciality sandwiches are the number one go-to's for this application - giving customers a different, unique tasting sandwich every time. This is an application that connects people in sandwich making matrimony. Choose from many different sandwich making users near on your location!

Problem Statement

There currently is no solution that connects hungry people itching for a fresh, homemade sandwich to other people that want to make awesome, family-secret worthy sandwiches.

When you find yourself miles away from a restaurant, you want a solution that makes it easy for you to get homemade sandwiches in less than 10 minutes.
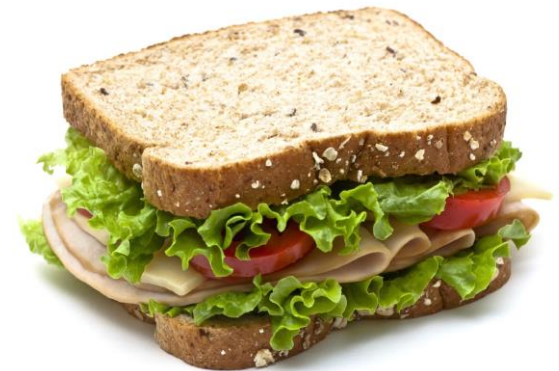

Product Features
- Create Account
- Sign in/out
- Order Sandwich (consumer)
- Create Sandwich (producer)
- View map
- Enter payment method
- Review & Confirm
- Estimated complete time

Problem Objectives

Develop a web application that connects users that want:

- To buy homemade, customizable sandwiches in less than 10 minutes
- To sell homemade sandwiches for hungry customers in the comfort of home.

Made by the Underground Railsroad